DECISION IS FAR REACHING

OUTCOME OF PAUL SHANE CASE CAUSES JOY AMONG RACING MEN IN THE EAST.

Action of Appellate Division of New York Supreme Court Held to Rob Hughes Anti-Racing Legislation of Much of Its Force—Further Details.

New York, February 22.—The decision unanimously rendered yesterday by the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court in the Paul Shane case is taken as meaning that the Hart-Agnew anti-bookmaking law of 1910, amended by the Agnew-Parkinson law of 1910, both of which measures were put on the statute books of New York State as a result of the personal efforts of former Governor Charles H.
Hughes, will lose much of their force. Naturally racing men are jubilant over the outcome of the case and are sanguine that it portends an early resumption of racing on the great tracks of this state, which for many years formed the backbone of the sport in America.

The case, of course, may be carried to the Court of Appeals, and according to the previously announced intention of the district attorney of Nassau County, it will be referred to the highest court in the state, but there is little expectation that the Court of Appeals will upset a decision by a united Appellate court.

No separate opinion accompanied the decision yesterday, the reasons advanced by Judge Scudder for his order of last October releasing Shane from custody being thought sufficient. The following justices of the Appellate Division concurred in the decision: Chief Justice Jenks and Associate Justices Burr, Thomas, Carr and Woodward.

The meaning of the decision in a nutshell is that betting on a horse race was not made a crime by the amendments to the Hart-Agnew law that were made in 1910. One of these amendments the previous law, passed in 1908, at the request of Governor Hughes, by adding the words "with or without writing" to the prohibition of bookmaking at race tracks.

By a previous decision in the so-called "Laugan case" the Court of Appeals had upheld the lower courts in deciding that the anti-race track law of 1908 did not forbid bookmaking as long as no written records of the bets were made. The amendments sought to remedy this defect by inserting the words "with or without writing." It is the effect of this amendment that the Appellate division has now decided and not make it a crime to make bets on horses at race tracks.

In the opinion of Justice Scudder, the whole case was summarized in this paragraph:
"The Legislature has made it a crime to bet on prize fights. It can make it a crime to bet on horse races. It has not done so and the court is powerless to do so."

There was no denial of the allegation that Shane had made bets privately with various people on the races that were in progress when he was arrested and in connection with the charge that he was guilty of "bookmaking." Justice Scudder said in his opinion: "I hold that the Legislature in inserting in 1910 in section 986 of the penal law after the word 'bookmaking' the words 'with or without writing' did not intend to make betting on horse races a crime, but intended to deal with that form of professional gambling known as 'bookmaking.'"

As for the allegation that Shane had been guilty of bookmaking, his counsel contended that not sufficient facts were alleged in the complaint before the justice of the peace to constitute the above crime, in that connection the court upheld him.

"The information lacks the necessary elements of professionalism, or habitualness," wrote Justice Scudder in his decision. In other words, the fact that a person makes bets with various persons at one particular race track on an afternoon does not make him a bookmaker in the eyes of the law. In order to prove that crime it is required that it be shown that the defendant has made it a practice to lay odds and make bets with all comers.

"The information does not allege that there was any public quotation of odds," continued the opinion of Justice Scudder. "There was no allegation of a solicitation of bets or any acts of inducing the public to invest its money in gambling."

That the so-called "directors' liability clause" in the anti race track law is also without teeth was the dictum of Justice Scudder, although that matter did not come before him in the case at issue. On this subject Justice Scudder wrote as follows:

"It is erroneous to say that any director could be held liable under these conditions under the present law. Section 973 of the penal law must be strictly construed. This section prohibits the keeping of race tracks used for gambling, and no director could be convicted of keeping a race track used for gambling unless it was proved that he had guilty knowledge that the place was, not once or twice, but continually used for gambling in the form of bookmaking (not private betting) and that he had taken no effective means to stop it."

FAN ZARÉTA BEATEN AT LAST.

Pride of Lismore Takes Measure of Filly That Had Won Seven Straight Races at Juarez.

El Paso, Tex., February 22.—A large holiday crowd journeyed across to Juarez this afternoon.
While not a favorite crowd the majority of the winners were heavily backed by the public.

Fan Zaréta, after having won seven straight races met with defeat in the handicap at five and one-half furlongs. She was beaten by the fast sprinter Pride of Lismore, which has fully recovered from his recent injury. He displayed a high turn of speed, but was closely pressed in the stretch by Pan Zaréta when jockey Gross drew his whip. She did not seem to respond as in her past races. Pride of Lismore was drawing away from her near the finish.

Paw left the maiden class today when he won the opening dash for two-year-olds. Kiltie, after finishing second, ran away and dashed through a gap in the fence, throwing jockey Teahan heavily to the ground. A long splinter from a wooden rail that is used to close the gap was driven into Teahan's shoulder, but he escaped without any broken bones.

Jockey J. Groth was conspicuous this afternoon, as he piloted three winners.

Jockeys Robbins and McCabe were suspended by starter Cassidy for disobedience at the barrier.

Secretary Jasper is in receipt of a letter from T.
Collins, the owner of Bourbon Beau, to the effect that that holder of the track record of 1:37 1/2 for one mile at Juarez has fully recovered and has instructed Mr. Jasper to enter him in all stakes for which he is eligible at Churchill Downs.

Orba Smile was bid up from $300 to $400 by W.
J. Weber, but was protected by owners Shook & Phillips. Powell & Parker ran up Cockspear from $300 to $700, but the horse was bid in by George M.
Odum, the trainer who has charge of him for Henderson & Hogan.

This morning's work-outs over the Juarez course included the following:

Amity—Half mile in 51. Acts good.

THEODORE WINTERS AND HIS GRAND BROODMARE, MARION

Theodore Winters, of Reno, Nev., was a big man bodily, quite imposing in appearance, in fact. He was also exceedingly lucky as a breeder in a small way, which at the same time was a large way. Results, Joseph Cairn Simpson, formerly well known personally and as a writer of turf stories and breeding theories here in Chicago, had emigrated to California some time in the seventies. He took some horses out with him, both trotters and thoroughbreds. Among them was a thoroughbred mare by the Bonnie Scotland horse, Malcolm. Her name was Marion and in time she became the property of Theodore Winters. Mr.
Winters was a man of notions and one of his pet notions was that the Truckee Valley in Nevada was as well adapted to the raising of the thoroughbred horse as any of the favored and more fashionable sections of California. Of course the Native Sons laughed this idea of his to scorn, but Marion was a peerless broodmare and enabled him to turn the laugh the other way. In this he took great joy as also did Joseph Cairn Simpson and the latter's intimate Chicago friend, "Billy" Boyle.

It is only fair to say, however, that before making his home in Nevada Mr. Winters had carried on breeding at his El Arroyo Stud in the Sacramento Valley, California, and Marion's first produce made its appearance there. When he crossed the Sierras into Nevada and established his new farm it was dubbed the Rancho del Sierra Stud. From other mares than Marion he bred horses that won and some of them were quite good race horses. But Marion's sons and daughters were of such surpassing excellence that it was due to them almost exclusively that Mr. Winters won fame in the east as a breeder.

It will come as news to many that Marion was a native of Cook county, Illinois, yet such is the fact.
She was foaled at Mr. Simpson's Atwood Place, Chicago, in 1871. This was probably in the present Stock Yards district. Her dam was Maggie Mitchell, by the imported horse, Yorkshire. Marion was a granddaughter on her sire's side of that other immortal broodmare, Queen Mary, and like the latter, was extremely prolific. She had thirteen living foals, shipped in 1889 and 1890, and has no Stud Book report for 1882, probably having been barren that year. Marion raced twice at Dexter Park, Chicago, when a two-year-old, running third to Carrie P. and Three Cheers in the Browns Stakes, at a half mile, July 4, 1873, and winning two days later from Mary Rowett at the same distance. So far as the records show she never raced afterwards. Just when Mr. Winters bought her does not appear, but it was probably in 1875. At any rate, she was bred to Norfolk in 1876 and produced her first foal. This was a bay filly of which we have no record in after years, the Stud Book saying: "Sold to Oregon." In order her subsequent produce was, 1878, Duke of Norfolk; 1879, Duchess of Norfolk; 1881, Prince of Norfolk; 1883, King of Norfolk; 1884, Vera (Queen of Norfolk); 1885, Emperor of Norfolk; 1886, Czar of Norfolk; 1887, El Rio Rey; 1888, Rey del Rey. All of these were by Norfolk, but this great race horse and sire having died, her foal of 1889 was the celebrated Yo Tambien, by Joe Hooker, and all of her subsequent produce was by that sire. To him she shipped in 1890 and dropped Yo El Rey in 1891 and Rey del Sierras in 1892. She died in 1893 and was in foal at the time.

Her first mate, Norfolk, was a mighty race horse and, for all that anyone knows, may have been the best son of Lexington. In the Jersey Derby at Patterson, N. J., in 1864, he easily defeated eleven of the best three-year-olds in America, one of them being the famous horse, Kentucky. R. A. Alexander, Norfolk's breeder and owner, had been pronounced extravagant when he gave $15,000 for Lexington and, settled by such criticism, predicted that in time he would sell one of Lexington's sons for a greater sum.
So when in 1864 Theodore Winters came east in search of a race horse and made overtures for the purchase of Norfolk, Mr. Alexander made good as a prophet by selling the colt to him for $15,000. There was then in California an extremely fast horse named Lodi, a son of the imported horse, Yorkshire—Topaz and bred by John M. Clay at Ashland, near Lexington, Ky. Mr. Winters was after the scalps of the Lodi people and, taking Norfolk out to California, he took them in 1865 in three bitterly contested races. The first colt, named Lodi, was a bay colt, who out a few years back was starting the horses over the San Francisco track. That such a horse as Norfolk mated with such a broodmare as Marion should beget such an imperial horse as Emperor of Norfolk was simply a matter to be expected.

Every one of Marion's sons and daughters that were raced were good racers and three at least were first class, they being Emperor of Norfolk, El Rio Rey and Yo Tambien. Emperor of Norfolk was sold to E. J. Bailey when a yearling and for him won twenty-one races out of twenty-nine starts, our own American Derby included. He met the best line of his time east and west and was winner of his last eight races as a three-year-old, they being the Brooklyn Derby at Gravesend, a handicap, the Bronx Stakes and the Sponen-Tuyval Stakes at Jerome Park; the Swift Stakes at Sheepshead Bay; American Derby, Drexel Stakes and Sheridan Stakes at Washington Park. In money he won $72,400 and was but four times unplaced. El Rio Rey and Yo Tambien were introduced to racing by Mr. Winters himself and he had a fortunate conviction that El Rio Rey was about the best horse ever foaled. In this he may have been entirely right, although El Rio Rey only raced when a two-year-old. He was a majestic colt, a perfect model of symmetry and immense muscular power. Mr. Winters brought him east in 1889 and, starting him in seven races at St. Louis, Chicago and New York, won them all. He won the St. Louis Breeders' Stallion Stakes at St. Louis, a purse, the Kenwood Stakes and the Hyde Park Stakes at Washington Park and the Great Eclipse Stakes, White Plains Handicap and Dumbow Stakes at Morris Park. These races netted his owner $46,825. In his purse race at Washington Park he stumbled and came so close to falling that his white face actually struck the track and was well discolored with dust, when he finally started home victorious. The big colt was in the American Derby of 1890 and the race was clearly at his mercy. He was brought here and was truly a magnificent young horse. But he had an ailing foreleg and, after hesitating for some time, Mr. Winters finally concluded not to start him, fearing a breakdown and not in the least fearing such opposition as he would have to meet if started. The colt was not broken down. In fact, he worked a mile with 120 pounds in the lead at Washington Park, a fraction slower than 1:38, then unheard of time. But he was as the pupil of his eye to his adoring owner and, so to make sure of an unbeaten record, he was retired to the stud.

There are today here in Chicago thousands who remember Yo Tambien when her pretty milking ways of nodding and bowing in response to the ripple of applause that always greeted her when cantering past the grandstand. They also remember her tremendous speed and dauntless courage in racing. She was a two-year-old in 1891 and Mr. Winters placed her east about the same time as some of the most remarkable youngsters, which he raced over the Chicago tracks and after the Washington Park meeting was over took them to St. Paul, then an important racing point. Here his horses were not successful and, partly because business affairs called pressing for his presence in Nevada, he concluded to sell them.
Henry White sent for Johnny Huffman, who was then training the Kendall Stable horses for Chris Smith, and convinced him that a great bargain was in sight. Chris Smith was then a highly successful plunger and the two had little trouble in persuading him to invest $20,000 in their purchase. Thus it was that came the owner of one of the best race mares of history and it was for him that she won all but one of her fourteen out of sixteen races, in which were included the Tobacco Stakes at Latonia, Garland Park Derby at Garland Park, Drexel Stakes, Boulevard Stakes and Great Western Handicap at Washington Park and the Seven City Derby, Hamilton Stakes, Twin City Oaks and Twin City Exposition Stakes at St.
Paul. In the Garland Park Derby she gave one of the most remarkable exhibitions of indomitable gameness ever witnessed anywhere. It did little but rain that spring and early summer and when the day for the decision of that $20,000 race arrived the Garland track was in as bad condition as it was possible for a race track to be. She carried 127 pounds and was opposed by eleven of the best colts in the west, they being Wadsworth, Azra, Cicero, Low Weir, Huron, Wightman, Notus, Loudon, Blitzen, Falero and Gallo. Weighing all, she went out in the lead and, meeting challenge after challenge, led every yard of the way and won by a half length from Wadsworth, with Azra, which afterwards won the American Derby, third. Some idea of the condition of the track may be derived from the fact that it took this band of brilliant three-year-olds 2:40 1/2 to run the mile and a quarter of the race.

Marion's daughters were pursued by the singular fatality of all being killed by accidents. Even such a peerless creature as Yo Tambien was not spared, she killing herself by running into a fence while in the pasture and being pinned by a broken rail. It is quite probable that Marion was the leading broodmare of America in respect to the amount of money won by her produce, the winning collectively the great sum of $264,811, to which the contributors and their winnings were, Yo Tambien, $80,480; Emperor of Norfolk, $72,400; El Rio Rey, $46,825; Rey del Rey, $23,822; King of Norfolk, $8,827; Duchess of Norfolk, $7,706; Prince of Norfolk, $3,175; Duke of Norfolk, $1,515; Vera, $700, and Yo El Rey, $350.

NOTES OF THE TURF.

James S. Everman is reported sick at Charleston and may have to undergo a minor operation.

E. McCloskey has traded the mare Grace Mc for the two-year-old John Hatcher, and the former will be shipped to Tennessee to join the band of brood-mares at F. J. Pons' farm.

Jockey C. Grand has signed a contract to ride for Catesby Woodford during the coming season. He will leave Charleston shortly for Louisville to help in the preparation of Mr. Woodford's horses, which are quartered at Douglas Park.

The purse won by Michael Angelo at Palmetto Park, Charleston, Friday, has been awarded to Dipper, because it was discovered after the race that Michael Angelo was ineligible. The ruling gave second money to Harcourt and third to Silas Grump.
The disqualification of Michael Angelo did not affect the betting, the layers paying off according to the original placing.

A petition for an act to incorporate the Alberta Jockey Club, with the usual privileges of a jockey club, has been presented in the Alberta Legislature by James K. Cornwall, M.P. George Lane, Alberta cattle king, Fred C. Lowes, a well-known really dealer; M. S. McCarthy, former M.P. for Calgary in the Federal House, and other well-known Albertans comprise the list of incorporators of the club.

REPUBLICAN FINALLY WINS

TALBOTT COLT, FAVORED BY GOOD RACING LUCK, SCORES IN STAKE RACE.

Biggest Crowd of Season Defies Threatening Weather and Witnesses Decision of Palmetto Park Card—Knapp String for Kentucky.

Charleston, S. C., February 22.—By far the largest crowd that has witnessed racing at Palmetto Park this season was in attendance this afternoon.
This, too, in spite of threatening weather conditions. The increased attendance was reflected in the betting ring, where action was fast and probably of the largest volume since the opening. Form was well observed, for five favorites and a second choice took the purses, entailing an extensive loss to the layers.

The George Washington Handicap of $1,500, one mile and a sixteenth, contested by some of the best racers in these parts, served as the feature and resulted in a victory for J. O. Talbott's Republican.
The colt, in contrast to his former starts, had the racing luck in his favor today and this enabled him to score decisively over Voltorpe. The latter was coupled with Merry Lad as the F. E. Brown entry. Busy was a respectable third. Voltorpe showed high speed in the early running, but Mon-don kept Republican within striking distance and when he called on the latter, passed Voltorpe with ease. Busy and Merry Lad were early sufferers from interference for which Cherryola was held to blame.
They both closed in resolute style and with a clear course would have given the winner a stout argument.

The Talbott establishment made it a double for the afternoon when Colonel Cook won the fifth race in commanding fashion.

The halter brigade again showed activity. When Americans won he was bid up to $605, an advance of $305 over his entered price, by Sam Louis. He was retained. Armor's victory in the third race brought with it a change in ownership, the horse going to T. F. Steady's stable on that owner's bid of $800, an advance of $500 over the entered price.

Jockeys Glass and Karrick, who are wintering at Aiken, S. C., where W. H. Karrick has the racetrack of W. H. Knapp and the Jockeys, Hitchcock quartered, were among the visitors. Jockey Glass stated that the horses under Mr. Karrick's care are wintering in exceptionally good style and that the crack colt Yankee Notions appears to be in the pink of condition. There are eighteen horses in the Kar-rick establishment, fourteen of which are young sters. The older horses include Sprite, Yankee Notions, Strenuous and Centurion. The present plans for the stable provide for a campaign on the Kentucky tracks this spring and the entire band will shortly be shipped to Lexington, Ky., and later to Churchill Downs and Douglas Park. After the latter meeting there will be a division of the stable.
One section will be sent to Piping Rock, L. I., for the racing there, and the other will engage in the Latonia meeting. Yankee Notions, in addition to being a starter in the Kentucky Derby, will be entered for the Kentucky Handicap. Sprite will also be named for this rich fixture. The two-year-olds in the stable will be extensively entered in all the juvenile events.

Jockey Mondon has been engaged by the J. O.
Talbot stable and will be riding the colt "Cook" to victory. He also landed Frank Hudson third.

The colors of Charlie Ellison, who, a few years ago, figured prominently as an owner, will be seen on the Kentucky tracks again this season. He purchased this morning the black horse Effendi, which J. W. Hedrick claimed from H. E. Gowin yesterday. Effendi is back in the stable of James S.
Everman and he will continue to handle the horse for the remainder of this meeting at least.

Jockeys Mondon and Taplin were fined $25 each by the stewards for rough riding in the sixth race.
The Palmetto Park track was heavy this morning, when the following work-outs took place:

Azo—Three-quarters in 1:28. Has been sick and is being trained slowly.

Beth Stanley—Half mile in 53. Handily. Good spring racing, applied for twenty-five stalls at the local track.

O. A. Bianchi will take up Rocky O'Brien, Tay Pay and Star O'Ryan from Idle Hour Farm next bay colt by Voter.

Trainer Cliff Hammon has shipped E. R. Bradley's big string of racers from Idle Hour Farm to Churchill Downs, Louisville, to be prepared for spring racing.

C. W. Clark will send three mares from his El Palomero Stud at San Mateo, Cal., to Kingston Farm, near this city, to be mated with Voter. Chuny and her half-sister, Valerence, are two of the mares.

J. R. Haggins's two great mares, Hamburg Belle and Tradition, have been booked to Star Shoot.

J. B. HAGGIN'S YEARLINGS.

Lexington, Ky., February 22.—James B. Haggin's crop of yearling thoroughbreds at Elmendorf Farm this season number thirty-seven, of which twenty-five are colts and twelve are fillies. They are the get of Watercross 7; Waterboy 7; Galveston 7; Star Ruby 6; Canopus 4; Toddington 2; Goldchink; 2; Hessian 1, and Bate 1. George Miller who has just begun to prepare these youngsters for the sales ring says they are a good-looking collection.
Mr. Haggin has not indicated when or where he will sell them. It has been his custom since the passage of the Hart-Agnew law in New York to sell his yearlings abroad, but in view of the increasing demand at home he may decide to sell this crop in Kentucky next fall. The list is as follows:

has just purchased Ballot and will return him to Kentucky, when asked for his opinion as to the effect of the Appellate Court decision upholding Justice Scudder's oral betting opinion, said: "The decision will prove ultimately a blessing to the people of the United States, inasmuch as it will tend to prevent the extinction of the thoroughbred horse, the most valuable of the equine family for the needs of this country, army remounts and all the rest."

TRAINING CONDITIONS IN ENGLAND.

With but six weeks intervening between now and the opening of another flat racing season, we may expect news of busy times forthwith from the various training centers. The winter recess, if indeed it can be so denominated, has been marked by strangely unseasonable weather, rain having been far more in evidence than the snow and frost which might reasonably have been expected. Thus if trainers have been handicapped in their business it has been by the heavy ground which has mostly prevailed and to a certain extent militated against anything in the shape of fast work with their horses—a remark which applies more particularly in respect of the two-year-olds. Hence is accounted for the scarcity of news as to the racing promise of the youngsters, no trials of any moment having been yet reported.
All the same there has been no necessity for idleness, and horses generally have been kept on the move to a sufficient extent and without interruption to render them ready to go straightaway into strong training, and unless interference should supervene in the meantime—a by no means impossible or even improbable contingency in this strange climate of ours—we shall not hear much of the cry usual at this period of backward condition owing to frost-bound ground. Generally speaking reports are satisfactory concerning the good health and well-being of horses in all parts of the country, and at least it is satisfactory to know that there has been much less illness among them than usual, though, of course, there have been some instances of coughing, but rarely accompanied by the fever which is apt to make havoc in stables at this period of the recess.
A few days without rain and the going at most training quarters, especially Newmarket, will be in fit condition for the resumption of active operations.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

Past performances of horses entered for Monday's racing at Palmetto Park, Charleston, will appear in Monday morning's edition of Daily Racing Form.

NOW FOR BEST RACING OF JUAREZ SEASON.

Weather Conditions Finally Have Settled and Good Sport Is in Prospect—Gossip of the Horses.El Paso, Tex., February 22.—More than the usual amount of rain has fallen in this section this winter and as a consequence the mud runners have had a veritable harvest and those unable to run in such going have been compelled to remain in the stables at the Juarez track. As the rains are now apparently over and as spring weather here is always of a cheerful character, the closing of the meeting is certain to see the best horses in the stables under colors and it is a sure thing that some of the best races of the season are yet to come. That the meeting will continue successful to the end is a foregone conclusion, as in spite of bad weather and track conditions recently there was little falling off of attendance and the volume of business in the ring was as heavy as on the biggest days here in preceding years.Pan Zareta, which was unbeaten at this meeting up to yesterday, has the record of seventeen races won though she is only in the second month of her three-year-old form.
As a two-year-old last season she started nineteen times, winning thirteen races and finishing second in three, third twice and unplaced once. So far this season she has raced five times and upon all but one occasion has finished first. She has so far won $5,692 in stakes and purses, $3,512 of which she won as a two-year-old last season and her winnings so far this season amount to $2,180. Many may look upon the Texas-bred filly as the next Kentucky Oaks winner for, although she has only shown sprinting ability, she wins her races like a thorough stayer. Being by Abe Frank, she is a grand daughter of Hanover on her sire's side and as her dam is by Rancocas, a son of Ironsides, it will be noted she is related to the only American-bred winner of the Epsom Derby and the St. Leger.
Pan Zareta is a sister to Calisse, a great racer for her inches and good enough as a two-year-old in 1911 to go to Kentucky from the Juarez track and win both the Debutante Stakes at Churchill Downs and the Clippeta Stakes at Latonia. Calisse was too small to develop into a winner of the Oaks type last season as a three-year-old, but Pan Zareta is built on more heroic lines than her speedy sister and is, in fact, as big as a filly ordinarily should be so early in her career.Here is the record of her successes at Juarez this winter:Won allowance race, five furlongs, 112 pounds; time, 1:01 3/4.
Won handicap, five and a half furlongs, 95 pounds (all ages).Won allowance race, five and a half furlongs, 112 pounds, 1:07 1/4.Won Rio Grande Stakes, six furlongs, 102 pounds, 1:14 1/2.Won allowance race, six furlongs, 110 pounds, 1:12 1/2.Won Chihuahua Stakes, six furlongs, 112 pounds, 1:13 1/2.Won allowance race, six furlongs, 114 pounds, 1:12 1/2.In these races she has beaten some of the best all-aged sprinters here. Her victories at Juarez this winter have caused the filly to be as much talked about in Texas as here, and she is now so highly prized by the Newman stable that the Sweetwater firm would not dispose of her for anything short of an enormous sum. Trainer Jack Adkins would like to add her to the Mackenzie string and, if her owner, J. J. F. Newman & Son, would sell, it is not exposed to part with her for a fair price, she would soon become a stable companion to Buckhorn, Helen Barbee and other cracks owned by the Canadian turkman. That trainer Adkins thinks highly of her sprinting ability is shown in a statement he made a few days ago to the effect that he would not care to race Helen Barbee against her.The brilliant racing of Jim Basey at Juarez this winter calls renewed attention to the gelding's sire, Salvation, which is still active in the stud at the age of twenty-two years. Many horses like Salvation have sired their best performers when approaching a score of years in age, and in fact, Falsetto got both The Picket and Sir Huon when he was older than Jim Basey's sire now is. Salvation is still in the stud in California, at the breeding farm of the late J. J. F. Newman & Son, still owned by Haggin at Rancho del Paso Stud and was a stake winner of more than $12,000. Most of his racing was in the best of company and he ran third when a five-year-old in the Burns Handicap of 1897, the season Rohart won that noted stake. He is a son of Salvo, whose mile time is 1:35 1/4, and he has a number of filly sires. He is still a sire of triumphant record for the distance, while his dam is Chimera, by Mortimer, she being out of the wonderful race mare Lizzie Lucas, grand dam of the sensational Morello. Salvation sold as a yearling at public auction for $6,250. Consist & Lawrence have a number of filly sires. Jim Basey's sire, who have retained for stud matrons and these are now being mated by them to their other stallion, Tim Payne, the sire of Maizie Girl. Tim Payne is a much younger horse than his stud companion, being only twelve years old. His chances have been limited so far. He is a son of Star Ruby—Lad-ing, by Hayden Edwards, she out of Belle Lordy, by Kantaka and the next dam is Belle of Eltham, by Victorians. This is one breeding firm who will not abandon the business in California according to all reports, though just now the Rio Grande, Columbus and other filly sires of the firm are in that state they will continue to maintain the thoroughbred department at their ranch and they will be prepared if racing does come back in the Golden State to have a winning stable of home-bred horses.
In the meantime they will race the product of their ranch where they are located, and they will be able thus create a market for their horses. Their object in going to Charleston this winter with their string was to dispose of this season's two-year-olds to eastern buyers. They figured it an easier place for youngsters to win than here. Next winter they will come to the Juarez track with all their horses in training.Gold of Ophi, Ursula Emma and Senator James, owned by Doerhoefer & West, were shipped to Churchill Downs from the Juarez track last Saturday to rest for Kentucky racing. P. M. West and Shelby West went to Louisville with their trio racers in order to begin getting ready the horses Doerhoefer & West turned out there last fall. Their experience at the Juarez course this winter was quite profitable, their horses winning thirteen races, and next winter they will likely bring the entire stable to the course just before the Rio Grande, Columbus, which won six races this winter, left the Mexican course in grand condition and will race frequently in Kentucky the coming spring. During the winter she graduated from the selling plate to the handicap class. James Griffin did not ship Jacob Dunn and Jacob Dunn to Churchill Downs with the Doerhoefer & West horses, but decided to stay here until the meeting ends. He contemplates taking up several more horses after his return north.
Idle Tale will be fitted by Mr. Griffin to run in the Kentucky Oaks. She is a filly which races as if she will improve with age and her half-sister, Fairy Story, raced most brilliantly at Juarez this winter at a younger age. There is no filly in training more richly bred than this Kentucky Oaks candidate and she must be reckoned as a possibility in figuring on the winner of that event.Idle in the string of W. E. Applegate & Co., Oakland, has been bred by Dr. C. W. Applegate & Breathacher will not race here any more this winter, the Louisville veterinarian thinks he can round the four-year-old up to being able to stand preparation so he can race anyway at Louisville and Latonia during the coming spring and summer. There is nothing serious the matter with Oakland's leg and the treatment Dr. C. W. Applegate has ultimately insured him racing sound for a long time to come.Old Gotch, the first of the get of Luck and Charity to win this year among the two-year-olds, is regarded with much pride by his owner and breeder, Dr. L. E. Clark, as his gelding is out of the now bred mare Ollie Ward, by Luke Ward, and so now Dr. Clark's Texas ranch has become a producer of successful race horses in the second generation.
This grandson of Hanover has improved on his first start and is now a promising prospect.
J. H. Mead has turned over to an El Paso caretaker his speedy sprinter, Salati, and by keeping him out of training until next fall, Mr. Mead and trainer "Tex" Foreman, are confident of getting that performer to stand training again, so that he will be able to race here next winter. Salati was crippled in Kentucky last fall, when he was racing in winning form. Having lost John Louis by the claiming process in a recent selling race here, Mr.
Mead will have only four horses to take back to Kentucky. They are Captain Bravo, Hanly, Bob Farley and Chapultepec, which will be about the smallest stable campaigned in the east or north by the Pennsylvania turfman in several years. Captain Bravo has been on the sick list during most of the winter and Hanly has been affected by the high water here, though he has succeeded in winning a race.R. F. Carman will take his entire stable back to Kentucky at the close of the Juarez meeting with the exception of a few horses he has acquired here by the claiming process in selling races, which have been the chief source of his coming numbers of the eastern turfman's string. Of the addition to his stable that he will retain G. M. Miller, Lady Rankin and Just Red are capable of winning good races on any track, as each possesses some class and the former will in his best belongs to the stake class of yearlings. Carman has not raced Starbottle nor Sempronius here this winter. With the exception of Indian, these horses will be his reliance in the big Kentucky handicaps this season.El Palomar, a three-year-old owned by the far western turfman, C. W. Clark, and trained by John Lowe, is sure to be entered for the Kentucky and Latonia Derby, the coming spring and he is upon as likely to be a keen contender for these prizes of theracing season of 1913. To date El Palomar has won three races, ten as a two-year-old and two as a three-year-old. He possesses brilliant speed and in all his recent performances has finished in a game and courageous manner. He is a home production and for this reason his owner, who is a son of former Senator William Clark, is proud of him. Oster Joe, the sire of El Palomar, was a high-class race horse in the middle nineties and is now twenty years old.
He is a grandson of Falsetto, being by Fresno, and is out of the sister to Jim Douglas, a daughter of Wildside. The latter is a son of Australian and through Falsetto, El Palomar gets two more crosses of that popular blood, as his dam, Mary Allison, is by Bright Phoebus, also a son of Falsetto. Bright Phoebus won the Lawrence Realization Stakes in 1895 and all of El Palomar's top sire lines represent stake winning horses. Mr. Clark's colt has not grown to anything like the proportions of a Hawthorn filly, but when fully grown he will be a big horse, and he has an abundance of size and speed in a shapely-built colt, with an extra good neck and shoulders, besides having good depth through the heart. In his last races he has proven that he is a good weight carrier and, being bred to stay, good game that he can win a three-year-old form, but he goes the Derby route as well as he now runs six furlongs. On account of being raced here this winter, he will be far better seasoned than most of the eligibles for the Churchill Downs event.Charles E. Price, presiding steward at the Jockey Club Juarez track, will not remain here until the meeting is entirely over. This efficient official has been ailing this winter and upon several occasions has been compelled to absent himself from his duties in the stand at the track as a consequence. Judge Price purposes to leave here Monday and will spend several weeks in the southern part of Florida, resting until spring and summer racing begins in Kentucky. During his absence Manager M. J. Winn, J. G. Follansbee and W. H. Fenchler will attend to the duties in the stewards' stand. Judge Price will be in the stand the coming season at Churchill Downs, Douglas Park and Latonia, in Kentucky, and at Windsor, in Canada.Buckhorn, winner of the Juarez Handicap and the star of the big racing string of R. J. Mackenzie, probably will not race again until he faces the barrier in the Clark Handicap at Churchill Downs next May. This high class son of Broomstick has only been walked and trotted slowly for more than six weeks and trainer Adkins does not intend to race him again here this winter. He had intended to race him at intervals throughout the winter, but Buckhorn now has such a prestige that he would be asked to make weight concessions which his owner and trainer think it would be unwise to ask of him.
The son of Broomstick has grown and spread out this winter and is now in the pink of condition physically. He will be ready, in trainer Adkins' opinion, to race next spring and summer with success against any horses in training and his trainer will not dodge a meeting with even such noted two-year-olds as Free Lance, Froglegs and The Manager.

KENTUCKY'S RICH STAKE PROGRAM.

Racing Associations of Blue Grass State Make Formal Announcements of Valuable Events.Elsewhere in this edition of Daily Racing Form will be found formal advertisement of the conditions of the stakes for spring racing offered by the New Louisville Jockey Club, Douglas Park Jockey Club and Latonia Jockey Club. Collectively they are a distinct improvement in value over the Kentucky stake program of last year. The most radical change in the proposals of the senior organization, the New Louisville Jockey Club, is in connection with the time-honored Kentucky Derby. Since 1896, to and including last year, this event has been of the guaranteed value of $6,000, of which the winner's portion was $4,850. This year it is of the added value of $5,000 and it is quite probable that it may net the winner more than in any year marking its previous history. This being the $5,400 which fell to Ed Corrigan in 1890 when Riley came home first in advance of Bill Letcher and Robespierre. That year it had but $2,500 added and had 115 entries, of which eighty-one paid forfeits and one was void. It is in keeping with the historical dignity of the race that its value should be increased and it is to be hoped that next year it may be still further advanced.The other events offered by the club are the Kentucky Oaks, Clark Handicap, Louisville Handicap, Churchill Downs Handicap, Frank Fehr Stakes, Towton Stakes, Rashford Manor Stakes, Debutante Stakes and Juvenile Stakes, to each of which $1,000 is added. Entries to all of the stakes offered close at midnight of Saturday, March 1, and are to be mailed to Lyman H. Davis, secretary, Louisville, Ky. Kentucky racing is securely established and protected by law. Its return to stake racing is good and the advisability from a business point of view of making liberal nominations to the stakes now offered is so obvious as to call for not especial urging.John Hachmeister, general manager of both the Latonia and Douglas Park tracks, recently electrified horses by the amount of stake money offered grams for the coming spring meetings at the two tracks far in advance of anything that had been expected. The practical result will be that the horses raced over the Kentucky tracks in 1913 will probably win an aggregate in money in excess of that won in any previous year of Kentucky racing.
Mr. Hachmeister's move was sagacious and for the betterment of racing. Such liberality is always appreciated by the racing public and increased gate receipts will be certain to attest its popularity.
Four stake races have been provided for the Douglas Park spring meeting. The most important andthe most valuable new event instituted in this country in many years is the Kentucky Handicap at a mile and a quarter for three-year-olds and over, with $10,000 added. This will be sure to attract the cream of the handicap horses of the United States and an attendance rivaling that of Kentucky Derby day. The Spring Trial Stakes for two-year-olds, with $2,500 added, will be the richest Louisville event for horses of that age and should net the winner close to $4,000. The other two events, the Memorial Handicap and the Speculation Stakes each have the good endowment of $1,500 added.The Latonia stake program has been changed and enriched in quite remarkable fashion. From $2,500 added last year, the Latonia Derby has been advanced to $6,000 added and should receive the nomination of every good three-year-old in the country.
The Memorial Handicap of last year has disappeared, but its place is taken by the Inaugural Handicap at the same distance, with $2,000 added. The Quick-step Handicap, with $2,000 added, Valuation Stakes, with $1,500 added, and the Independence Handicap, with $2,500 added, are important new additions to the track's stake program and such old-established favorites as the Harold Stakes, Clippeta Stakes and Chinchail Trophy have each had their endowment in added money exactly doubled. To epitomize the matter, the Latonia Jockey Club added $8,500 to the six stakes of its spring meeting last year. To its nine stake races of this year's spring meeting, it adds $22,500. "Fair Latonia," is one of the finest race tracks in the country and is now coming into a standing it should have attained long ago.The entries to both the Douglas Park and Latonia events close for entries, Saturday, March 8. The conditions of the stakes are printed in the advertising department of today's Daily Racing Form and they are cordially commended to owners and trainers east and west.
